Delhi is the capital city of India and is regarded as the heart of the nation. The city is popular for its enriched culture and heritage. The city hosts some famous historical monuments and is developing with the passing of time.

The influence of religious diversity can be seen in the city along with the cultural impact of the Mughal, the ancient Indian and the British. There are many beautiful gardens in the city, away from pollution and busy city life that provide opportunities to walk leisurely in the midst of greenery.

HARIDWAR

Haridwar is an ancient city and important Hindu pilgrimage site in North India's Uttarakhand state, where the River Ganges exits the Himalayan foothills.

The largest of several sacred ghats (bathing steps), Har Ki Pauri hosts a nightly Ganga Aarti (river-worshipping ceremony) in which tiny flickering lamps are floated off the steps. Worshipers fill the city during major festivals including the annual Kanwar Mela.

MAHENDRA NAGAR

Mahendranagar is the 9th largest city in Nepal. It is 5 kilometres (3.1 mi) east of the Indian border and 700 kilometres (430 mi) west of Kathmandu. At the time of the 1991 Nepal census, it had a population of 62,050.[3] According to the census of 2001, the city's population was 80,839.

Bheemdatt is a hub of activity for industries running between India and Nepal.

It is also a gateway to Shuklaphanta National Park, formerly Shuklaphanta Wildlife Reserve.

NEPAL GUNJ

Nepalgunj is a chief transport hub with mountain flights to distant airstrips in northwestern Nepal, a full of activity border with India, and the neighboring airport to Bardia National Park.

Nepalgunj is a grainy border town with an Indian savor as you will hear more Hindi spoken than Nepali.

If you discover yourself spending time in Nepalgunj, take a leisurely walk through the old bazaar where you'll find some gorgeous silver Tharu jewellery.

POKHARA

Pokhara is a metropolitan city in Nepal - it is even called the Tourist Capital of Nepal. This city offers a myriad of options for travellers of all kinds - from thrilling adventures and unforgettable journeys into the wild, to tranquil contemplation and serene meditation. Kathmandu - city of peace, lives true to this description. The city is charming, busy, bustling, serene, alive and asleep - all at once.

The capital of Nepal, Kathmandu is the most accessible city in the country - it is Nepal's only metropolitan city as well. It doesn't matter what you're in the mood for as a tourist, Kathmandu offers it all.

From venturing into the untamed wild in National Parks, going where nature takes you on hikes and trails, setting your senses ablaze with the thriving nightlife and conquering the gushing waters on rafts and kayaks.

View of Mount Everest

Everest base camps refers to two base camps on opposite sides of Mount Everest (It could also include any Everest base camp on a given route, but this is less common since the two main routes became standardized). South Base Camp is in Nepal at an altitude of 5,364 metres (17,598 ft), while North Base Camp is in Tibet at 5,150 metres (16,900 ft).

These camps are rudimentary campsites on Mount Everest that are used by mountain climbers during their ascent and descent. South Base Camp is used when climbing via the southeast ridge, while North Base Camp is used when climbing via the northeast ridge.
